CREATING A
The Dream
LYME-FREE WORLD

Time for Lyme is a community organization that seeks to eradicate tick-borne diseases by promoting research, education and legislation, while serving as a resource for information sharing and support.

Time for Lyme has accomplished the following:

- Reached countless people with educational forums, community health fairs, website www. Timeforlyme.org, support groups, fundraising events and through organizing public hearings.
- Created a partnership with Columbia University Medical Center and the national Lyme Disease Association to establish the first endowed Lyme Disease Research Center in the world for the study of chronic Lyme disease which opened in April 2007.
- Raised significant monies through fundraising, which has been the cornerstone of our success. With the completion of five major events: Time For Lyme, Time for Lyme in New York, Time For Lyme at the Lymelight, Time For Lyme Rocks Miami's South Beach and Rockin'House Party, we have donated nearly $3 million dollars to support the Columbia Center, and researchers at SUNY at Stony Brook, NYU, UMDNJ, John Hopkins and Cornell Weill.
- Created a one-hour video, "A Time for Lyme— Students, Teachers and Lyme Disease," in partnership with the Greenwich Department of Health and Greenwich Public Schools, which is currently in use in 23 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.
- Developed and implemented an educational tick-borne disease curriculum in partnership with Greenwich Public Schools for grades K, 3, 6 and 9; the curriculum is in use in many school districts in the tri-state area.
- Established a monthly support group for patients and families suffering with Lyme disease.
- Produced, in partnership with the Red Cross, a travel tick kit
- Lobbied state and national legislatures for Lyme disease patient/doctor legislation and for the appropriation of governmental research funds, along with the national Lyme Disease Association and our nation-wide affiliates.
- Participated in the creation of an award-winning PBS documentary on Lyme disease, narrated by actor Meryl Streep
- Selected by Harvard Business School Community Partners of Fairfield County to plan for future development stages and organizational growth.
